ASECAP'S COMMITMENT TO SUSTAINABLE MOBILITY AND THE EU GREEN DEAL

Toll road operators recognize the importance of their responsibility to promote sustainable development and observe the universally accepted standards on environment, human rights, and transparency. In a globalized world corporate social responsibility is increasingly becoming a fundamental parameter for customers and stakeholders.

Corporate responsibility means compliance with relevant national and international laws and regulations. But it goes further to cover social and sustainable efforts in the fields of business ethics and strategy. For toll road operators this means strengthening their focus on safety, environmental protection, and long-term sustainable development.

What are the credible plan, vision to deploy? How to reach the sustainability aims, like net zero emissions in Scope 1, 2 and 3. How to ensure the resilience of the road infrastructure? How to make our infrastructure ready for the new challenges? What kind of investments are needed? How to finance them?

The Second ASECAP Sustainability forum will address all these issues. The motorway operators will also present their view, plan, vision for a sustainable road transport infrastructure including deployment of alternative fuel plans aligned with the political goals to reach carbon-free mobility.
