

Julián Núñez's Biography

Julián Núñez is currently the president of the Association of Infrastructure Contractors and Concessionaires (SEOPAN), over which he has presided since 2013. He was also the president of the European Association of Operators of Toll Road Infrastructures (ASECAP) until May 2018 and, nowadays, is also the second vice president of this Association.

In addition, he is Vice President and a member of the board of directors at Spanish Confederation of Business Organizations (CEOE); Vice President of the National Confederation of Construction (CNC); chairman of the Commission of Concessions and Infrastructures at CEOE; council member of the Labor Foundation of Construction (FLC); a member of the Spanish Road Association (AEC) Board of Directors.

Previously, he worked for ten years in Vías y Construcciones (ACS Group), five of which were spent as director of the Portuguese region and, additionally, two years within Euroresidencias Gestión.

Julián is a civil engineer graduated from Madrid Polytechnic University (Promotion 1992) and an Executive MBA from Instituto Empresa (2000).